About Mario's Closet

Mario's Closet is a comforting place where people can find restored confidence, dignity and hope after their lives have been affected by cancer or other illnesses.

It also happens to be a comfortable place where anyone can shop. Everyone is welcome, and most anyone can benefit from our products and services.

It's a place for feeling good.

Mario's Closet was founded by the Mario V. Chalmers Foundation and Mario Chalmers, member of the 2008 national champion University of Kansas men's basketball team and current NBA player with the Miami Heat. With the Chalmers family's wish to help breast cancer patients and survivors, LMH worked with Lawrence businesses to design and build this wonderful complement to services offered through the LMH Oncology Center.
